

University of Wisconsin–Madison
Campus Safety Guide
Academic Year 2010–2011

September 2010

Dear Campus Community Member:

Attached you will find a comprehensive report of the many safety mechanisms that are in place on the University of Wisconsin–Madison campus. This report is part of our ongoing effort to inform you of the safety programs and services available, the crimes that are reported to our police and security personnel, and the steps you can take to maintain a safe and secure campus. It is also provided in accordance with the Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act of 1990 and subsequent amendments that led to its being renamed the Jeanne Clery Act in 1998.

The Division of Student Life, along with our many campus and community partners, takes the reports of crimes against our students, faculty, staff, and visitors on our campus very seriously. It is our obligation to aggressively investigate reported crimes and put systems in place to support the victims of crime in our campus community. You can make this campus a safer place by empowering yourself with knowledge, as prevention and educational programs are available on an ongoing basis. We must assure that our persons and property are secure and protected by a responsible, vigilant, and caring population of involved individuals who report suspicious and unlawful behavior immediately to the University of Wisconsin Police Department. Please do your part by getting involved.

Thank you for the important role you play in keeping our campus and city community safe. We appreciate and recognize the role that the UW Police, the Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs department, and other safety-focused offices play on campus. Most important, everyone who belongs to our campus community plays a role in campus safety. We encourage you to stay actively engaged in making our campus a safer place to belong and to take care of your fellow Badgers.

Sincerely,

Lori Berquam
Dean of Students

Campus Safety

This document is one of many mechanisms designed to provide information on crime prevention, procedures for reporting crime, resources for victims, and crime statistics. It is designed to enhance the safety and security of everyone who visits, studies, or works at the University of Wisconsin–Madison. Many campus offices are actively working to support and enhance campus safety. The following offices have significant responsibility for collecting and reporting crime data: Division of Student Life (Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs), University of Wisconsin Police Department, Office for Equity and Diversity, and University Health Services. In addition, representatives from University Communications and PAVE: Promoting Awareness, Victim Empowerment, assisted with the completion of this report.

Safety Tips

General Crime Prevention Tips:

- ▶ Call the police IMMEDIATELY if you see or hear something suspicious. Don't hesitate to dial 911 in an emergency. Be sure to tell them exactly where you are.
- ▶ Keep your possessions in sight at all times. Don't leave computers, cell phones, or mp3 players unattended.
- ▶ If you leave your office or room, even for a few minutes, lock the door!
- ▶ Be alert to potential danger. Trust your instincts.
- ▶ Walk with friends whenever possible or use SafeWalk, SafeRide, or SafeBus (all are free). If jogging, walking, or biking alone, stay in well-lit and well-traveled areas.
- ▶ Shred documents you discard that contain personal information.

Protective Behaviors:

Victims of sexual assault or other violent crime are NOT responsible for being assaulted. Students can take protective measures to increase their personal safety and the safety of those around them.

- ▶ When going to a party or a bar, let a friend or roommate know who you are with and where you will be. Leave an address and your phone number with them.
- ▶ Go out in groups and ask one member of the group to be the "Designated Friend" (like a Designated Driver) who checks in with members of the group throughout the night.
- ▶ Be wary of anyone who does not respect your boundaries around alcohol. Alcohol is the most commonly used predatory drug, otherwise known as a "date rape" drug.

- ▶ Do not put your drink down or let someone else get it for you. Colorless, odorless, and tasteless drugs are used to facilitate rape or other crimes and can render a victim defenseless and powerless.
- ▶ Call Campus SAFEWalk or SAFECab at 262-5000. These services operate until 3 a.m. (6 a.m. during finals week) and can provide a safe way to get home.
- ▶ If you see something unsafe, say something. Safety is everyone's responsibility.

Safety at home:

Per Madison City Ordinance, you have the right to the following. Contact your landlord.

- ▶ Have lights in all entrances
- ▶ Have locks on the entrances to buildings and individual apartments
- ▶ Have locks on the windows and alternate entrances such as balcony doors
- ▶ A working smoke detector

Additional Tips:

- ▶ Don't put your first name on your mailbox. (ex., J.Doe rather than Jane Doe)
- ▶ Do not prop open outside door of building.

This annual report is filed as required by the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act. An electronic version of this report is available at <http://students.wisc.edu>. Paper copies available upon request. Questions regarding this publication should be directed to Assistant Dean Ervin "Kipp" Cox, Director, Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs, Room 75, Bascom Hall; 608-263-5700.

- ▶ Always know who is at your door before opening it.
- ▶ Balconies and alcohol do not mix well.

Safety and Security on Campus

University of Wisconsin Police Department (UWPD)

The University of Wisconsin–Madison Police Department (UWPD) is a full-service, 24-hour agency with 68 sworn officer positions. Officers are armed and deputized. UWPD has nationally recognized special units in the bike and mounted patrols. UWPD was the first campus agency in the state to establish a "community police officer" position with a satellite office, and has community police officers who are assigned to specific geographical areas of responsibility for community interaction, crime prevention, and problem solving. The university's peace officers cooperate with local police and other state and federal authorities in the exercise of their responsibilities.

UWPD is represented on university committees that address sexual assault, domestic and dating violence, traffic safety, moped safety, Arboretum safety and security, white collar crime, alcohol and other drugs, and the intervention team (I Team), which addresses campus safety concerns and mental health issues..

Reporting a Crime

Crimes that occur on campus can be reported to the University of Wisconsin Police Department (UWPD) by calling the non emergency number 608-264-2677 or going to the department at 1429 Monroe St., Madison WI 53711. Crimes that occur off campus can be reported to the Madison Police Department via the non emergency number 608-266-4316 or by going to the department at 211 S. Carroll St. Madison, WI 53709. UW–Madison encourages all campus community members to accurately and promptly report crimes they are victim of or witness. Students are also encouraged to report crimes/violations of the student code to the Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs unit to seek assistance for themselves or to begin a code of conduct investigation: 75 Bascom Hall, 608-263-5700. If a student requests it, assistance will be provided in notifying law enforcement.

Victims of sexual assault who do not wish to report the crime to a law enforcement official or to the Division of Student Life office are still encouraged to get help and support. Any employee of the university is required to make a confidential report (victim's name not included) to the Division of Student Life upon a disclosure or first-hand knowledge of an assault. This requirement applies to all university employees, including professional counselors/mental health providers.

Daily Crime Log

UWPD maintains a daily log of crimes and incidents that occur on campus that is accessible to the public upon request. This information includes the nature of the crime, the date, time, general location, and a summary description of the event. This daily log is available at Police Headquarters during standard business hours. Log entries for the previous day are updated each morning by 8 a.m. In order to protect an ongoing criminal investigation or the identity of a victim, the chief of police or her designee may classify information as confidential and prohibit its release. Recent entries to the log are also available on the UWPD website: www.uwupd.wisc.edu.

Facility Access

General access to and use of the facilities at UW–Madison is governed by Chapter UWS 21, Wisconsin Administrative Code, and institutional policies on file in the Office of the Chancellor.

Security is provided in the maintenance of the university's facilities through a number of mechanisms, including limitations on hours of operation, policies on keys, restricting access to those bearing proper identification as university staff or students, the issuance of after-hour building passes for academic buildings, the provision of adequate lighting, and making available outside "blue light" telephone call boxes that are connected directly to the UPWD dispatcher for emergency assistance. Specific security mechanisms may vary with the type of university facility. University Housing

Blue Light Emergency Telephones

There are over one hundred blue emergency telephones located throughout campus with a direct connection to the UWPD. All emergency phones (with the exception of emergency phones located inside campus buildings and elevators) have a blue light above them. All emergency phones are labeled "Emergency."

UWPD officers regularly respond to calls in university-owned residence halls. A committee comprised of police officers, residents, student staff, and professional staff of these residence halls meets regularly to address the security concerns of the students occupying these facilities. Both student unions are also regularly patrolled by uniformed police officers. Additionally, UWPD has staff liaisons assigned to university-owned apartments (Eagle Heights) and each residence hall. These officers meet regularly with building managers, look at crime trends in these areas, identify root causes for the criminal activity, and utilize crime prevention and problem solving techniques to promote campus safety.

Residence Halls are only able to be accessed by staff and current residents.

Emergency Response and Evacuation

The primary focus of the Emergency Management division of the UW–Madison Police Department is the development of two things: Continuity of Operations Plans (COOP) and Occupant Emergency Plans (OEPs).

An Occupant Emergency Plan is an all hazard plan designed around a building's unique layout and function on the UW campus. The purpose of an OEP is to provide guidance in the event of an emergency (i.e. tornado, active shooter, gas leak, bomb threat, etc.) to the occupants of the building. The final product is a document (either a hard copy or an electronic copy kept on the building's intranet or both) that will inform people when it is appropriate to evacuate a building, when to shelter in place, when to hide in place, etc.

The development of the OEP is a multiphase endeavor. The first step involves the building manager setting up a meeting with an Emergency Management Police Officer (EMPO). In this meeting we will discuss the particulars of your building and we will discuss how to begin filling in the OEP. The second step (after the OEP has been completed, approved by the Lieutenant of the Emergency Management division, and distributed) will be a PowerPoint training session. This training session gives the building's occupants an overview of the OEP and highlights such things as off-site evacuation points and locations of weather radios. After the training is complete, the next step is to drill the building's occupants. The drill is designed to implement one aspect of the OEP. In the past we have designed drills involving suspicious packages or large gas leaks just to name a couple of options. Finally, after the drill is complete, we will complete an After Action Report (AAR) detailing what went well during the test and what needs to be improved upon.

If you are unsure if your building already has an OEP, contact your building manager. Currently there are over 75 plans completed and another 30 plans started.

Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs (SAJA)

Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs staff work in collaboration with staff from other student life departments across campus, including University Health Services, UWPD, and University Housing.

The Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs (SAJA) team members support the academic mission of UW–Madison by providing advocacy, prevention, intervention, and referral services to students in their living-learning-working communities in order to foster citizens who exercise personal responsibility, ethical decision making, and cross-cultural competency.

The staff of the Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs department of the Division of Student Life has two primary functions. First, to provide advocacy and support services to students and the university community; and second, to manage the university's academic and non-academic misconduct systems.

SAFE Nighttime Services

SAFE (Safe Arrival for Everyone) Nighttime Services are the university's comprehensive late-night transportation system, available to students, faculty, staff, and university guests. SAFE has three components: (1) SAFERide Bus, which provides free circular bus transportation during work and night hours on and near campus; (2) SAFERide Cab, which provides a limited number of free cab rides to those who need to get from campus to home safely at night; and (3) SAFEwalk, a free nighttime walking escort service on campus. UWPD has an officer liaison to the SAFEwalk program, and is involved in the training of staff members. SAFEwalk staff have direct communication via hand-held radios to address safety concerns.

For more information about SAFE Services, see <http://www2.fpm.wisc.edu/trans/Safe/SafeOther.htm>

Threat Assessment and Response Team

The university formed, through the leadership of the Division of Student Life and the UWPD, a Threat Assessment and Response Team in September of 2007. The group is charged with assessing and responding to situations where a student, faculty, staff, or visitor poses a threat to other individuals. Members of the team include representatives from University Housing, University Apartments, UWPD, Academic Personnel, Classified Personnel, UHS Counseling and Consultation Services, University Legal, University Communications, Employee Assistance, and the Division of Student Life.

Intervention Team (I-Team)

The Intervention Team (I-Team) is comprised of staff members from McBurney Disability Resource Center, Counseling and Consultation Services, UWPD, University Housing, and University Apartments, and is staffed by an assistant dean of students (the director of Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs; SAJA.). This team discusses situations that involve students who may be struggling with mental health issues, including possible suicidal ideations and disruptive conduct. This team has the ability to assist and refer students to appropriate campus resources.

Missing Student Notification for Students Living in University Housing

If a student is missing for more than 24 hours, it should be reported to a member of the Residence Life Staff. There are 26 fulltime staff members who serve as residence life coordinators, area coordinators, assistant directors, and associate directors. An assistant or associate director would activate the missing student notification.

Each residence hall student was asked to provide a cell phone number and emergency contact person in case we were notified that they were missing. When a student signed on to the internet for the first time in Housing, students were given the opportunity to furnish their cell phone number and the emergency contact information.

Our protocol is: if a student is missing for 24 hours, University Housing will notify University police, so they can start an investigation into the status of the missing student.

Any issue that occurs in the residence hall community with a student underage the age of 18 requires immediate contact with parents. This involves discipline issues, mental health issues, missing students and other relevant issues. As an underage student, you can anticipate that University Housing will contact your parent/legal guardian for any issue that arises.

Additional protocol for a student who has been missing for 24 hours includes:

- ▶ Residence life staff member contacts University police to start an investigation
- ▶ House fellows gather information from the roommate and other house mates about last contact with student
- ▶ Food service staff member confirms the last time their meal card was used in the cafeteria
- ▶ Facilities staff member confirms the last time the ID was used to access a building
- ▶ Any information that Housing gathers is shared with University police as part of their investigation

Emergency Management Unit

The Emergency Management Unit, established in 2004 in large part to manage Homeland Security terrorism prevention programs for the UW–Madison campus and several of the UW System schools, has rapidly expanded into other areas of emergency preparedness. The unit coordinates various university and community entities to ensure that the UW–Madison students, faculty, staff, visitors, and the community are prepared to respond to emergencies, recover from them, and mitigate against their impacts. Emergency Management also works closely with several of our campus partners to develop and implement UW–Madison's crisis communication plan.

Crisis and disaster events require campuses to not only prepare for such events, but they also require an understanding of response capabilities and limitations. It is impossible to predict exactly when a crisis or disaster will occur, or the extent to which they might affect the campus. Through deliberate planning, preparing, and training, UW–Madison can greatly minimize losses from such events.

When an emergency occurs, the Emergency Operations Center (EOC) is activated. During the activation, key university leadership meet to facilitate sheltering of evacuees, search and rescue, law enforcement, debris removal, and to provide needed resources. The Emergency Management Unit is also responsible for developing and maintaining the campuswide Crisis Response Plan (CRP), facilitating the completion of Occupant Emergency Plans (OEP) for each facility on campus, and coordinating Continuity of Operations Planning (COOP) for all UW System schools. The unit provides training and information on all 4 phases of emergency management: preparedness, response, recovery, and mitigation.

Security and Safety off Campus

The Madison Police Department (MPD) has primary jurisdiction in all areas off campus. MPD routinely works with UWPD and campus judicial affairs officers on any serious incidents occurring off campus when a UW–Madison student is involved. MPD has a designated officer liaison to the Langdon Neighborhood, the off-campus area that is home to many officially recognized student organizations (fraternities and sororities). Under the advisement of the Fraternity and Sorority Advisor, student members of the Greek community governing boards (Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Association) are in regular communication with the Langdon Neighborhood Police Officer regarding safety concerns and local ordinances.

Communication about Campus Crimes

Through a variety of media, UW–Madison provides information to students and employees about campus security procedures and practices, encourages them to be responsible for their own security and the security of others, informs them about crime prevention strategies, and communicates with the campus community about reported crimes that pose serious threats to students and employees. This section highlights some of the ways in which campus offices communicate information about crime on campus.

When a Crime Occurs

UWPD will, upon receipt of information involving a potential threat to members of the university community, work cooperatively to ensure that the community receives the information that is necessary for them to make informed decisions regarding their personal safety and security.

Timely Warning Procedure

The University of Wisconsin–Madison has the following protocols in place to keep the community informed about safety and security matters on campus and maintain compliance with applicable features of the Clery Act (20 USC 1092(f)).

Timely warnings may be issued in the following incidents occurring on campus:

- ▶ Significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students, staff, or faculty
- ▶ Murder or Manslaughter
- ▶ Sexual Assault
- ▶ Robbery
- ▶ Aggravated Assault
- ▶ Arson
- ▶ Motor Vehicle Theft
- ▶ Burglary
- ▶ Other crimes or situations as deemed appropriate

Some of the considerations to be taken into account prior to issuing a timely warning include:

- ▶ The nature of the crime (serious/non-serious, violent/non-violent)
- ▶ The continuing danger to the community or continuing crime pattern (yes/no)

- ▶ The possible risk of compromising law enforcement efforts (yes/no)
- ▶ The nature of the threat (general/specific target)

Issuing a timely warning

When the Police Department becomes aware of a situation that meets the criteria for a timely warning, the Department may work with university or community partners as needed to disseminate information regarding the type of incident; general location; general timeframe of occurrence; possible suspect information; instructions to students, staff, or faculty; and, if appropriate, educational information.

Other entities on campus learning of an incident in which a timely warning may be needed, will share the information with the UW Police Department to determine if it meets the criteria for a timely warning. In the event a timely warning is needed consideration must be given to the most appropriate means to be used to disseminate the information. A variety of means may be used some of which include: postings on the UW homepage, My UW portal, SafeU webpage, UW Police webpage, UW Facebook page, targeted e-mail, @UW Madison Twitter, building managers, press releases, postings at appropriate locations, UW Police electronic signboards, or the Parent Program.

Time-critical, urgent threats:

In the most time-critical, urgent threats to the campus, the Police Department will use a variety of means to reach students, staff and faculty. Some of these means may include WiscAlerts–Text Messaging, WiscAlerts–Broadcast E-mail, Reverse 911, and press releases. These messages may also direct the recipients to a location such as the university's webpage for additional information and updates. The UW Police Department will work with university and/or community partners and, if in operation, the UW's Emergency Operation Center, regarding the content of additional information to be posted or disseminated.

Campus Safety Website

UW–Madison has a website designed to improve education and awareness about campus safety. This website reminds members of our community that everyone plays a role in safety, security, and emergency preparedness at UW–Madison. University community members can learn about crime prevention information, campus resources, and emergency procedures at: <http://www.safeu.wisc.edu/>

WiscAlerts

WiscAlerts is the name for UW–Madison's emergency notification system. The system is designed to provide information about an active emergency situation that requires the community to take immediate action in order to stay safe.

Depending on the exact nature of the situation, the system may utilize one or many of the components described below:

- ▶ Text messaging: UWPD will text subscribers in order to reach mobile users who may be away from their computers or offices. This is an opt-in service.
- ▶ Students, faculty and staff who have not yet enrolled in WiscAlerts-Text messaging can do so by logging into the My UW Portal and looking for the WiscAlerts logo. Registration is simple and takes just a few moments.
- ▶ E-mail: WiscMail users may receive a mass e-mail warning message.
- ▶ Phone: Campus Centrex phone users are configured to receive a call with a recorded message providing information.

(Note: Phone and email notifications do not require registration.)

► Social media: Institutional Facebook (<http://www.facebook.com/UWMadison>) and Twitter accounts (<http://www.twitter.com/UWMadison>, http://www.twitter.com/biddy\_martin) are configured to convey alert messages to followers.

In all cases, more information will immediately be provided at <http://www.wisc.edu>. The WiscAlerts system launched in April 2008 and has attracted steady interest and signups from students, faculty and staff, and new students in particular.

Crime Prevention Education

Badger Watch, a volunteer-based crime prevention effort modeled after the national Neighborhood Watch program, involves over 600 student, faculty, and staff volunteers each academic year who are trained to promote personal safety, office safety, and responding to unwanted building patrons. UWPD provides continuing support to the volunteers and provides direct access to specific campus personnel. UWPD also sends specific crime alert information to the volunteers. The Badger Watch program holds an annual conference to provide volunteers updated and additional training such as: CPR, building emergency plans, advanced Badger Watch training, CERT (citizen emergency response teams), travel safety, and safe mail handling.

Citizens Academy, which is an intensive training program for citizens to learn more about the requirements of what it takes to become and maintain basic police certification in Wisconsin. Topics covered in the intensive six-week training include: a ride-along with a patrol officer; sexual assault response (provided by the Dane County Rape Crisis Center); tours of the police department and detoxification center; education on alcohol and other drugs; an overview of Wisconsin

Law as it pertains to bicycles, mopeds, and pedestrians; firearm use; defense and arrest tactics; and emergency vehicle operation and control. Participants must pass a rigorous background check and be at least 18 years of age.

UWPD personnel and assistant deans from Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs unit of the Division of Student Life are available to present to academic classes, departments, student organizations, campus offices, and residence halls (both private and university owned) regarding campus safety. Presentations highlight steps to enhance personal safety as well as community responsibility for creating a safer campus.

Each semester, social fraternities and sororities send representatives to workshops on risk management, alcohol, sexual assault, and hazing. These students receive education about how to host a social event in their houses safely and securely; training from a Madison city police officer about staying safe on and off campus; clear definitions of sexual assault, consent, and hazing; and personal choices concerning alcohol use. The programs give students information about risk factors for Greek leaders, liability reduction, and creating safer facilities.

Chimera Self-Defense

Chimera self-defense teaches verbal assertiveness skills and physical techniques to prevent and stop harassment and assault. Programs available on campus upon request. Contact: Rape Crisis Center: www.danecountyrc.org; 608-251-5126

Violence Prevention at UW–Madison

UW–Madison proactively addresses sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking. These crimes will not be tolerated on campus and are a violation of state law as well as the student code of conduct.

Violence and the fear of violence can disrupt the working and learning processes of the university community. The effects are costly, not only to individual victims, but also to the campus as a whole: fear replaces safety, doubt replaces confidence, and distraction replaces concentration. The high rates of victimization experienced by both men and women, paired with acceptance of rape myths, contribute to campus environments wherein survivors are often estranged from their overall collegiate experience. Victims experience barriers to academic success, lower graduation rates, social isolation, and ongoing medical and mental health issues. More information can be found at www.uhs.wisc.edu/assault

End Violence on Campus: EVOc

The End Violence on Campus (EVOc) initiative is a multidisciplinary effort between nearly 20 campus and community offices dedicated to ending violence against women. Using collaborative, victim-centered approaches, the following offices work together to ensure that prevention education is provided to students; victims have access to services and accommodations; professionals have adequate training and support to respond effectively; and perpetrators are held accountable for their actions. EVOc partners are committed to systemic policy changes that create a safer place for UW–Madison students to learn. ## Violence Prevention Education Programs and Efforts

Overview:

UW–Madison encourages all students and employees to take responsibility for creating a safe campus community, as well take precautions to keep themselves as safe as they can. Nationally, between 20 to 25 percent of college women experience sexual assault prior to graduation, and victimization rates for stalking/dating violence are similarly high. Men, too can be victimized. Best practices indicate that prevention programming for students, faculty, and staff need to address the following:

- 1) clearly define sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking as crimes and violations of the student code with penalties;
- 2) interrupt the acceptance of commonly held “rape myths” by providing education about these crimes from a factual base;

- 3) provide information about on- and off-campus services available to victims;
- 4) provide information about local, state, and national victimization data;
- 5) encourage behaviors to prevent perpetration and protect yourself from victimization; and
- 6) empower bystanders to intervene in situations that are potentially harmful.

Definitions: Since laws may vary from state to state and over time (stalking was not considered crime until the 1990s in most states), the language used below are commonly accepted definitions in lay terms.

Sexual Assault is any sexual contact without consent. Sexual assault can range from forcible fondling to penetration without consent—rape.

Dating Violence/domestic violence, and/or intimate partner violence are forms of abuse that occur in dating relationships when one person uses fear and intimidation tactics to establish power and control over another person. Dating and domestic violence can also include sexual violence or stalking. Domestic violence can happen to people of all ages, races, ethnicities, and religions. It occurs in both heterosexual and LGBT relationships.

Stalking typically involves a pattern of conduct that is not wanted by the person to whom it is directed, and would cause a reasonable person to feel fear.

Signs of an abusive dating partner may include

- calls you names, insults you, or continually criticizes you
- does not trust you and acts possessive or jealous
- tries to isolate you from family or friends
- monitors where you go, who you call, and who you spent time with
- controls finances or refuses to share money
- punishes you by withholding affection
- expects you to ask permission
- threatens to hurt you, your family, your pets, or belongings
- threatens and/or uses a weapon against you
- has ever forced, coerced, or manipulated you into having sex or performing sexual acts
- accuses you of cheating or is often jealous of your relationships with others of the opposite gender
- trapped you in your apartment or dorm room and kept you from leaving
- IM, text messages, and calls you obsessively to find out where you are and what you are doing

Facts (not myths) about sexual assault and dating violence:

- ▶ Most victims of sexual assault know the perpetrator (boyfriend, classmate, someone they meet at a party, coach, etc.). On college campuses, only about 10 percent of assaults are committed by a stranger.
- ▶ Sexual assault is defined by the perpetrator's failure to get consent, not the victim's resistance or "fighting back." An absence of a NO does not mean YES. If you aren't sure, ask.
- ▶ Sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking are more commonly perpetrated by men against women, but NOT all men are perpetrators. In fact, men can take an active role in preventing these crimes by asking for consent, intervening in harmful situations, and learning more about how they could help a victim/survivor.
- ▶ The majority of sexual assaults on college campuses occur when women are incapacitated primarily due to alcohol. Know your limits and respect the limits of others.
- ▶ Stalking can take many forms but does not always have to be committed by a stranger. Often, ex-boyfriends or ex-girlfriends continue to stalk after the relationship is over.

Services available to victim/survivors:

The campus and surrounding community have a wide range of services available to help student victim/survivors. This information is always provided as part of prevention education efforts and is detailed below. For more information visit www.uhs.wisc.edu/assault.

Victimization data:

Please note that sexual assault and dating violence are among the most underreported crimes in the nation; the numbers represented here represent responses to victimization studies rather than the required crime data reporting contained elsewhere in this report.

- ▶ The majority of sexual assaults on college campuses occur when women are incapacitated primarily due to alcohol use.<sup>1</sup>
- ▶ Sexual assault encompasses a continuum of behaviors from unwanted touching to forcible rape. Nearly 1 in 5 undergraduate women experience sexual victimization during their collegiate career.<sup>2</sup>
- ▶ 9 of 10 victims of sexual assault are victimized by men they know, rather than strangers.<sup>3</sup>
- ▶ In one year, more than 13% of college women indicated they had been stalked, 42% by a boyfriend or ex-boyfriend.<sup>4</sup>
- ▶ In 2009, nearly two-thirds of all reported sexual assaults in Wisconsin took place in either the victim's residence or the offender's residence.<sup>5</sup>
- ▶ Women ages 16 to 24 years old experience the highest per capita rate of intimate violence in the U.S.<sup>5</sup>

Preventing Perpetration and Protecting Yourself: Strategies to Prevent Perpetration

- ▶ Understand and respect your partner's limits.
- ▶ Men who use sexually callous language are more likely to perpetrate sexual assault. The next time you hear yourself or someone else talking about women or sex in a derogatory way, stop. Speak up when you hear others talk this way—men or women!
- ▶ Know your own sexual limits.
- ▶ Learn more about how men and women communicate differently.
- ▶ Listen to or read the story of a survivor.

Strategies to Interrupt Victimization

- ▶ Practice being assertive about your boundaries.
- ▶ If saying NO or STOP is too hard, consider creating a diversion so you can leave.
- ▶ Enroll in Chimera or another self-defense program that focuses on sexual assault.
- ▶ Set your drinking limits before you start drinking.
- ▶ Get your own drinks; don't let someone continually fill your cup or leave your drink unattended.

Bystander Intervention

Many people think that sexual assault only affects the victim, when in fact entire families, friend groups, and communities are hurt. Campuses suffer from the victims who drop out, the perpetrators who cause fear, and the classrooms that are distracted.

It's simple. If you see something, say something.

- ▶ Before it even happens, listen up for rape jokes and sexist language. You don't have to laugh or participate.
- ▶ If you witness something happening, step in. Create a diversion. Even if you don't know the person who looks in trouble, you can still help. Get him or her to a safe place.
- ▶ You can be a bystander even after an assault. Learn what options rape victims have available to them on this campus and be supportive of their choices.

Programs Available

Students

Two full-time staff housed in University Health Services (UHS) are available to provide technical assistance, consultation, and assistance in sexual assault/dating violence prevention programs and policy development. The violence prevention staff can provide presentations to general student audiences though they primarily work to train law enforcement, campus officials, and student leaders. For more information, see www.uhs.wisc.edu/assault or contact violenceprevention@uhs.wisc.edu

First-year students are provided with intensive violence prevention education as part of their orientation to campus through a Health and Safety panel at SOAR (Student Orientation, Advising, and Registration), an hour-long online learning program deployed prior to their arrival to campus, information in their orientation materials, and, often, conversation with their House Fellow in University Housing. First-year student athletes taking the life skills/CHAMPS course receive additional discussion about sexual assault and consent. Students joining social fraternities and sororities are required to take part in additional sexual assault prevention education programs.

All students and student groups may request a free, peer-led, hour-long workshop about consent, sexual assault and dating violence from PAVE (Promoting Awareness, Victim Empowerment), a student organization. PAVE also hosts many ongoing events, lectures, discussions, and campaigns to raise awareness about sexual assault and dating violence on campus. Thousands of students are served each year. PAVE also sponsors many educational events during October, January, and April, national awareness months of domestic violence, stalking, and sexual assault, respectively. For more information, see their website at <http://uwpave.rso.wisc.edu>

Teaching Assistant graduate students must participate in a sexual harassment education program if they wish for their second-year pay increase. This education is provided by the Office for Equity and Diversity: www.oed.wisc.edu

Presentations are available upon request from the Rape Crisis Center and Domestic Abuse Intervention Services, Inc., two local community organizations that exist to serve victims of sexual assault and domestic violence. The Rape Crisis Center has a satellite office located on campus for ease of access. For more information, contact www.danecountyrc.org or www.abuseintervention.org

Several academic course options on these topics are available in various departments to students, including kinesiology and social work. Check the course catalog each semester for more information.

Faculty/Staff

Faculty and staff who wish to learn more about sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking or who wish to schedule professional development in these areas should contact violenceprevention@uhs.wisc.edu for a consultation and list of upcoming events. UHS violence prevention staff are available to provide or coordinate training upon request

The Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs unit of the Division of Student Life can provide training upon request about the confidential reporting requirements for sexual assault disclosures. For more information, contact dean@odos.wisc.edu.

A comprehensive guide designed for faculty and staff about handling sexual assault victim disclosures appropriately, compassionately, and responsibly can be found online at the UHS violence prevention website: www.uhs.wisc.edu/assault.

Staff and Faculty should contact the Office for Equity and Diversity to get information about how to prevent and respond to sexual harassment: www.oed.wisc.edu.

Services and Reporting Options for Victims/Survivors

Students who experience sexual assault, dating violence, and/or stalking have many options and services available to them on and off campus, including counseling; victim advocacy; access to the criminal and campus disciplinary systems; medical attention. All of these services are available to students regardless of their choice to report the incident to law enforcement, and most are free.

We know that many student victims do not feel comfortable talking to law enforcement, campus administrators, professors, or advisors. The campus provides training and information to these staff, but if you find yourself unable to seek help from one of the offices listed below, we encourage you to tell a trusted friend or family member. Healing can look different for everyone. Additional services may be available elsewhere in Dane County; this is a list of services most commonly accessed by UW–Madison students.

Do I HAVE to report this to law enforcement?

No. You are under no pressure or obligation to report this crime to law enforcement or any other campus professional. Many victims feel that reporting the crime, or simply disclosing it to another person, helps with healing. Only you can make this decision. You may also choose to report to Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs (SAJA) in order to ask for a campus disciplinary investigation without having to report to law enforcement.

Formal Sexual Assault Investigation Process

Victim also referred to other resources as appropriate; including SAJA Assistance Dean, Rape Crisis Center, Counseling Center, UHS Clinic, SANE Program, and the appropriate police dept.

Hearing options for victim:

- Victim does not offer information at hearing (can affect outcome of decision)*
- Victim offers information at hearing face-to-face w/hearing body and accused assailant.*
- Victim offers information at hearing with screen between them and accused assailant.*
- Victim offers information via telephone during hearing.
- Victim offers information during the hearing directly to hearing body with alleged assailant listening via phone in other location.

Note: All options allow for the reading of an "impact statement" during the hearing.

*These options allow the victim to be present during entire hearing (except deliberations).

What can the campus disciplinary process do? How can I get more information?

The Student Assistance and Judicial Affairs unit of the Division of Student Life provides administration of the student conduct code as indicated by UW System code. You may contact a staff in that office for more information about the investigation process, or see below for a flowchart of the sexual assault investigation process on campus. For SAJA's contact information, see above.

Will anyone tell my parents or will this appear in my student record?

No. The university has very specific regulations regarding the protection of your privacy and will not disclose victimization to parents or in your academic record.

Reporting options:

For the purposes of clarity, "reporting" means the formal disclosure of a crime to either local law enforcement or a campus investigating officer (SAJA). If you choose to report to either of these offices, an investigation of the accused will pursue to the extent possible.

If you do choose to report, please note the following:

- ▶ The preservation of evidence will strengthen investigations, which may result in a better chance of holding the accused responsible;
- ▶ Campus officials are required to provide you with information and assist you in making contact with law enforcement personnel if you request it; and
- ▶ Filing a report will generally involve an interview with law enforcement officer or investigating officer from SAJA (or both, if you choose to report to both agencies). With UWPD, you may request a same-gender officer to take your statement.

Sexual Assault Victim's Bill of Rights

Victims are afforded rights by the federal government, the state, and the institution. All students have the right to emotional and physical safety.

Federal law entitles sexual assault victims to the following rights:

- ▶ the accuser and accused have the same opportunity to have others present throughout disciplinary proceedings
- ▶ both parties shall be informed of the outcome of any disciplinary proceeding. At no time can a victim be required to keep the outcome confidential.

- ▶ victims shall be notified of counseling services available on- and off-campus
- ▶ victims shall be notified of options for changing academic and living situations
- ▶ victims can obtain a free forensic exam from a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner without filing a police report or involving the police in any way. Other hospital charges may apply; please ask.

Wisconsin State Law outlines the following:

- ▶ UWS Chapter 17 outlines the campus disciplinary process. Students have the right to know the range of sanctions the institution can impose on the accused [UWS 17.10(1)], which include the following: written reprimand; denial of specified university privileges; imposition of reasonable terms and conditions on continued student status; restitution; removal of the student from the course in progress; disciplinary probation; suspension; and expulsion. Full text of this

UWS 17 can found online here: <http://www.legis.state.wi.us/rsb/code/uws/uws017.pdf>

- ▶ Victims have the right to know that any disclosure of a sexual assault made to a university employee can result in a report (name withheld) as an annual crime statistic
- ▶ Student victims have the right to decide whether or not to sign a release of information form/confidentiality waiver. A confidentiality waiver allows campus units and community victim services agencies to communicate with one another about the case files.
- ▶ Students have the right to receive sexual assault education and information on an annual basis

Additionally, the institution is committed to ensuring that victims are afforded the following:

- ▶ the right to a victim advocate
- ▶ the right to access STI testing, treatment, emergency contraception, and pregnancy testing
- ▶ the right to be informed of and access to medical, mental health, crisis response, legal, forensic, campus disciplinary, and/or victim advocacy services
- ▶ to not be charged with a minor-in-possession violation if victimized while drinking underage
- ▶ In a campus disciplinary hearing, victims have a variety of options for how they offer their information to the panel/officer. .

Campus Crime Statistics

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act requires the distribution of an annual security report to all current faculty, staff, and students and notice of its availability to prospective students, faculty, and staff. The annual security report includes statistics for the previous three years concerning reported crimes that occurred on campus, in certain off-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by the University of Wisconsin-Madison, and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus. In addition to the statistics compiled by UWPD, Dean of Student's Office, University Housing and Madison Police, additional information regarding institutional policies is relayed. Information such as general crime prevention and safety tips, specific safety and security measure used on UW-Madison's campus, how we communicate about campus crimes, violence prevention initiatives, and alcohol and drug report are addressed. A copy of this report is disseminated to faculty, staff, and students in an e-mail sent in early October of each fall semester.

University Policies and State Laws

Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment

Wisconsin statutes recognize that sexual assault, sexual exploitation by a therapist and harassment are serious criminal offenses. It is important for all members of the university to understand how these offenses are defined in law, and to be aware of the penalties. Excerpted below are the definitions and penalties of sexual assault. The law defines the words consent, sexual contact, and sexual intercourse. Consent means words or overt actions by a person indicating a freely given agreement to have sexual intercourse or sexual contact. A person under 16 years of age is incapable of consent as a matter of law. Teens 16 and 17 years old can legally consent to sexual contact; however, they are deemed incapable of consenting to sexual intercourse as a matter of law. People who have a mental illness or deficiency, and people who are unconscious or physically unable to communicate, are assumed to be incapable of consent, but that assumption can be challenged in court. Marriage is not a bar to prosecution for sexual assault. A person may be prosecuted for assaulting his or her spouse. Sexual contact is defined as any intentional touching of the intimate parts of a person, either directly or through clothing, by any body part or by an object, if that intentional touching is for the purpose of sexually degrading or humiliating the victim, or for the sexual arousal or gratification of the assailant, or if the intentional touching contains the elements of actual or attempted battery. Sexual intercourse includes any intrusion, however slight, into another person's genital or anal openings by any object or part of another person's body, or oral-genital contact.

Under another statute, Wisconsin delineates guidelines for the use of evidence in court. Wisconsin State statute 972.11 prohibits the use in court of evidence of the victim's past sexual conduct. There are three exceptions to this. The judge may allow evidence of the victim's past conduct with the assailant; evidence that could show the source or origin of semen, pregnancy or disease; or evidence of prior untruthful allegations of sexual assault made by the victim. Recent revisions in the law have allowed for further exceptions to be made at the judge's discretion.

- ▶ The right of the victim/survivor and alleged assailant to be informed of the outcome of any disciplinary hearing involving sexual assault.

Rights of Victims/Survivors of Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment

Victims/survivors shall be informed of their options to notify proper law enforcement authorities, including on-campus and local police, and the option to be assisted by campus authorities in notifying such authorities, if the victim/survivor chooses.

Victims/survivors shall be notified of available counseling, mental health or student services for victims of sexual assault, both on campus and in the community.

Notification to victims/survivors of and options for, and available assistance in, changing academic and living situations after an alleged sexual assault incident, if so requested by the victim/survivor and if such changes are reasonably available.

In addition to the above, Chap. 950 Wis. Stats., provides a victim's bill of rights, 950.01 Legislative intent. In recognition of the civic and moral duty of victims and witnesses of crime to fully and voluntarily cooperate with law enforcement and prosecutorial agencies, and in further recognition of the continuing importance of such citizen cooperation to state and local law enforcement efforts and the general effectiveness and well-being of the criminal justice system of this state, the legislature declares its intent, in this chapter, to ensure that all victims and witnesses of crime are treated with dignity, respect, courtesy and sensitivity; and that the rights extended in this chapter to victims and witnesses of crime are honored and protected by law enforcement agencies, prosecutors and judges in a manner no less vigorous than the protections afforded criminal defendants. ### Definitions and Penalties for Sexual Harassment 36.11(22)(1)(a)Wis. Stats.

University policy as well as state and federal law prohibit sexual harassment. Some acts may constitute both assault and sexual harassment. Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when:

- ▶ Submission to such conduct is a condition of employment, academic progress, or participation in a university program;
- ▶ Submission to or rejection of such conduct influences employment, academic or university program decisions; or
- ▶ The conduct interferes with an employee's work or a student's academic career, or creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work, learning or program environment.

Sexual Harassment

Tangible Action or Quid Pro Quo (This for That) Sexual Harassment

Occurs when employment or academic decisions resulting in a significant change in status are based on an employee or student's submission to or rejection of unwelcome verbal or physical sexual conduct.

Hostile Environment Sexual Harassment Occurs when verbal, non-verbal and/or physical conduct is:

1. Sexual and/or based on gender
2. Unwelcome, and
3. Sufficiently severe and pervasive to interfere with a person's work, learning, or program performance or to create a hostile, intimidating or offensive environment. The determination of sexual harassment is made on a case-by-case basis looking at the whole record, including the circumstances (such as the nature of the sexual advances) and the context in which the alleged incidents occurred. Some behaviors, which may be acceptable in certain contexts, are inappropriate in the workplace or classroom, particularly if an objection is expressed. Key points about sexual harassment include:
  - ▶ Differences in power or status can be a significant component in sexual harassment. A person who seems to acquiesce to sexual conduct may still experience tangible action harassment or hostile environment harassment if the conduct is unwelcome.
  - ▶ Harassment can occur between men and women or between members of the same gender.
  - ▶ Sexual harassment may or may not involve a tangible injury (e.g., economic loss, lowered grades). A sexually harassing environment, in and of itself, may constitute a harm.
  - ▶ Sexual harassment must be addressed and corrected regardless of the position or status of the harasser or the person being harassed.
  - ▶ Conduct is not always offensive or unwelcome to the same degree when perceived by different people. Courts use a "reasonable person" standard to determine whether the contested behavior constitutes sexual harassment.
  - ▶ In an academic or program setting, offenders can be faculty, instructors, lecturers, teaching assistants, coaches, tutors, or even fellow students or program participants. In the workplace, offenders can be supervisors, co-workers, or non-employees such as vendors or customers. ## Services on Campus and in the Community to Assist Victims of Sexual Harassment

The campus has a network of people trained to assist with concerns about sexual harassment. You should feel free to contact any one of them (listed below). Call 911 immediately if your safety is at risk. If assault is involved, you may contact the University Police, the Division of Student Life, or another resource listed below.

The University of Wisconsin-Madison is committed to preventing sexual harassment and will take prompt and appropriate corrective action whenever it learns that sexual harassment has occurred. You are encouraged to report incidents or concerns to your supervisor, manager, department chair, director, or dean for appropriate action and resolution. Sexual harassment (and other prohibited harassment or discrimination) also may be reported to the Office for Equity & Diversity, or to any of the campus administrative offices identified on the Sexual Harassment Information & Resources website: www.oed.wisc.edu/sexualharassment/resource.html

Sexual Harassment Contact Persons

Sexual Harassment Contact Persons are available to anyone wishing to inquire about sexual harassment, discuss an incident, or receive information about options for resolving complaints. They are equipped to address initial concerns and refer appropriately. You can find more information about sexual harassment and the names of Sexual Harassment Contact Persons on the sexual harassment website at: www.oed.wisc.edu/sexualharassment.

Office for Equity and Diversity

The OED is available to receive complaints of sexual harassment and other forms of discrimination or prohibited harassment when the allegation is of misconduct by a university employee. If the allegation is against a student, the OED will refer the matter to Student Assistance & Judicial Affairs. While many persons prefer have their concern addressed at the departmental level, the university also provides an option for complaint reporting, investigation and/or resolution through the OED. The OED will conduct prompt, thorough and impartial investigations when formal complaints are filed. If informal resolution is an appropriate alternative, the OED will work with individuals to facilitate a resolution that assures that sexual harassment is corrected and reoccurrence prevented. For more information on the OED's complaint procedures, see: www.oed.wisc.edu

PROTECTIVE BEHAVIORS 36.11(22)(1)(d) Wis. Stats.

If You Are Concerned About Possible Sexual Harassment

- We encourage early contact—consultation is not escalation. Timely discussion of people's concerns may allow resolution before alternatives become limited. The university will protect confidentiality to the extent possible under the law.
- Seek advice. Consult with your department chair, another divisional resource person, OED or another campus resource (listed above) to discuss options for resolution.
- Consider informing the individual(s) involved that the conduct is unwelcome and that you expect it to stop.
- Keep notes of what happened, when, where, and who was present. Retain copies of any correspondence.
- You may find it helpful to seek support from a trusted colleague. Be aware of your interest in keeping the matter as confidential as possible.

If You Are Accused of Sexual Harassment

- Early consultation may help avoid claims of retaliation and facilitate resolution of the situation.
- You will be informed of any complaint filed against you and provided with an opportunity to respond to the specific allegations.
- You should contact the OED or another campus resource (listed above).
- You may choose to seek private legal advice.
- Be honest when questioned about alleged conduct and explain its context.

If You Are in a Position of Authority

(E.g., Principal Investigator, Manager/Supervisor, Department Chair/Director, Dean)

- Sexual harassment can arise in a healthy environment but it often develops in negative climates. If you have concerns about the climate in your area, consult with one of the resources listed above to learn about proactive measures to improve the climate for all individuals.

- Distribute the Prohibited Harassment Policy to new faculty and staff and to all employees periodically and when there are modifications to the policy.
- Periodically remind employees of your expectation that they maintain a harassment free environment. Provide resources (e.g., this document, a link to the sexual harassment Web site).
- Schedule Sexual Harassment Informational Sessions and promote attendance by all department members.
- Encourage employees and students to come forward with questions, concerns, and allegations. Avoid discouraging persons from "going outside the department with problems." (A person may not be comfortable reporting within the department and may not seek help if the department's culture discourages outside assistance.)
- Take every complaint seriously and ensure that others do as well. Ensure that your department appropriately addresses all complaints. If you have questions about the scope of your responsibility, contact OED or another campus resource.
- Keep allegations confidential except on a "need to know" basis.
- Ensure that no retaliation occurs against the person making the allegations and that the person charged with harassment is not assumed guilty and/or disciplined on the basis of allegations.
- For the protection of both parties, comply with all applicable university procedures and ensure that your department fully cooperates with any investigation.

If You Are Approached by a Colleague or Peer

Listen to the allegation of harassment sympathetically but objectively.

Sexual Assault And Sexual Harassment

- Encourage the individual to contact someone who can explain alternatives available to resolve the situation (a Sexual Harassment Contact Person, department chair or other divisional resource, the OED, or other campus resources listed above).
- If requested, and if you are comfortable doing so, assist the individual in reporting the behavior.

- Keep allegations confidential, except as necessary to cooperate with appropriate university officials.

University Misconduct Policies and Procedures

Every member of the University of Wisconsin–Madison community has the right to conduct his or her academic and social life in an environment that is free from threats, danger, harassment, or other disruption.

UWS Chapter 17

The UW System and UW–Madison have devised regulations defining responses to behavior of students which interferes with the life and work of the University and its members. Chapter UWS 17 is a part of the University of Wisconsin Administrative Code and was adopted by the Board of Regents as a set of disciplinary procedures for the University System. It defines conduct by students that may result in University discipline because it causes harm either to another member of the University community or to the University itself. UWS 17 also describes the penalties which may be imposed and the procedures for carrying out disciplinary actions. Of course, due process for students accused of misconduct is an important part of these procedures. (Note: Academic misconduct is covered in UWS 14. UWS 17 applies to student conduct; faculty and staff are governed by other regulations.)

Non-academic conduct rules cover a broad spectrum of conduct involving students':

- ▶ behavior toward other community members
- ▶ actions on university property or
- ▶ actions related to a university activity.

A student may be subject to discipline for conduct that is or already has been the subject of a police citation or criminal action. This means that a student ticketed for an alcohol violation or charged with vandalism may also be subject to misconduct proceedings. A student may also be subject to discipline for conduct that is or has already been addressed by a University Housing breach of contract action.

UWS 17 defines prohibited conduct in the following areas:

(Note: See the UWS 17 policies for a complete description of offenses & penalties; see the UWS 17 procedures for campus specific implementation guidelines.)

UWS 17.09 Conduct subject to disciplinary action.

In accordance with s. UWS 17.08, the university may discipline a student for engaging in, attempting to engage in, or assisting others to engage in any of the following types of nonacademic misconduct:

- (1) DANGEROUS CONDUCT. Conduct that endangers or threatens the health or safety of oneself or another person.

- (10) MISUSE OF COMPUTING RESOURCES. Conduct that involves any of the following:

  - (b) Use of university computing resources for unauthorized commercial purposes or personal gain.
  - (c) Failure to protect a personal password or university-authorized account.

- (16) NONCOMPLIANCE WITH DISCIPLINARY SANCTIONS. Conduct that violates a sanction, requirement, or restriction

UWS 17.10 Disciplinary sanctions.

- (1) The disciplinary sanctions that may be imposed for nonacademic misconduct, in accordance with the procedures of ss. UWS 17.11 to 17.13, are any of the following:
  - (a) A written reprimand.
  - (b) Denial of specified university privileges.

History: CR 08-099; cr. Register August 2009 No. 644, eff. 9-1-09.

The Disciplinary Process

If a report is received alleging that a student has engaged in conduct which is in violation of UWS 17, an Investigating Officer will investigate the matter. The student will be invited to meet with the investigating officer in an informal meeting. The purpose of that meeting is to hear any statements the student wishes to make and to answer questions about the procedures. The student may be accompanied by a person of his/her choosing at the meeting. If the student lives in Residence Halls and the alleged misconduct occurred in Residence Halls, a University Housing staff person will serve as an Investigating Officer. Otherwise, a staff member from Student Assistance & Judicial Affairs will serve as an Investigating Officer.

If it appears that misconduct has occurred, the Investigating Officer will prepare a report describing the misconduct and the sanction he or she believes is warranted.

The Right to a Hearing

If the investigator determines that misconduct occurred, the student has the right to a formal hearing to contest the decision that the student engaged in misconduct, the disciplinary action imposed, or both. The hearing may be available at the student's request or may be scheduled automatically, depending on the sanction imposed. When the discipline imposed is less severe, the student may request a hearing by submitting a written notice within 10 calendar days after the finding of misconduct. In cases where the discipline imposed includes suspension or expulsion, UWS 17 provides for the hearing to be scheduled automatically unless the student waives the right to the hearing in writing.

Hearings are conducted either by a hearing committee or by a hearing examiner, at the student's choice. Separate academic and non-academic misconduct hearing committees are appointed by the chancellor and include faculty, academic staff, and student members. The committee for a specific case is composed of at least three members with at least one student member. A hearing examiner is appointed by the chancellor from the faculty or academic staff. A hearing examiner or hearing committee conduct hearings in the same manner and under the same policies and procedures.

In any hearing (whether by student election or automatically scheduled) the student maintains:

- ▶ the right to have a representative present on his/her behalf, including the right to be advised by counsel at his/her own expense;
- ▶ the right to question witnesses;
- ▶ and the right to obtain a transcript of the proceedings at his/her own expense.

Can I Make a Report?

If you are being harassed, threatened or harmed by a student, or if you observe conduct which you believe may be in violation of university rules, you are encouraged to contact Student Assistance & Judicial Affairs in 75 Bascom Hall (263-5700). A staff member will be happy to talk to you in confidence about the situation. Staff will then review with you which disciplinary procedures might apply, as well as other avenues for solving problems or taking action.

*Note: UWS 17 covers non-academic student misconduct. Faculty and staff are subject to other university policies and procedures. The policies and procedures for student academic misconduct (cheating) are contained in UWS 14.*

UWS Chapter 18

UWS Chapter 18 provides the UW System statutes for all behavior on university property. Regulations address topics ranging from traffic rules and criminal behavior to ticket scalping and distribution of political materials.

Programming and Services on Sexual Assault/Harassment Prevention, Education, and Victim Assistance

INSTRUCTIONS:

Please type in this electronic document to respond to the following questions and submit via email to acss@uwsa.edu.

1. Provide a description of the method used to annually distribute the required information, as described in Wis.Stat. §36.11(22)(1)(a-d), to all new and continuing students electronically or in printed format.

In 2009, new students and their parents were provided with informational about sexual assault through a variety of mechanisms before, during, and after orientation. The University of Wisconsin–Madison Police Dept. (UWPD) is committed to keeping students, staff, and visitors safe on campus. One aspect of keeping the community safe is to provide safety education. Another element is for the community to know the services UWPD provides and have easy access to those services. The UWPD seeks to have positive interactions with students early on in their academic careers.

Prior to students arriving on campus, UWPD participates in student orientation (SOAR). During SOAR police officers have the opportunity to speak with not only students but their parents as well. The topics touched upon include theft, computer safety, sexual assault, and alcohol use, to name just a few. UWPD police officers provide safety information, crime prevention tips, and answer any questions that students or parents have. Once students arrive on campus, they will find that police officers are assigned as liaisons to the various residence halls. The police liaison officers continue to provide safety information throughout the year and attend many events at the residence halls. The liaison program allows students to interact with police officers in a positive environment. UWPD also has a Langdon Street police officer liaison who works closely with a Madison Police Department officer. Their primary focus is the State Street, downtown Madison, and the area near the fraternities and sororities. Police officers involvement in SOAR and the liaison program allows for students to learn more about UWPD and safety and also allows officers to interact with students in a less formal environment.

In addition to the residence hall police officer liaisons, UWPD provides a police officer liaison to the Safe Walk program. Safe Walk is a program that employs and trains students to escort students safely to their residence halls or other locations on and near campus. The UWPD police officer liaison assists with training Safe Walk staff and also is a resource for sharing information about safety concerns that arise. The Safe Walk program can provide peace of mind for both students and parents who have concerns for walking on campus after dark. Safe Walk staff is trained to be very aware of their surroundings, and they provide “eyes and ears” for potential problems they come across on campus and can quickly alert police.

Before orientation, an article was published in one of the campus newspapers regarding sexual assault myths, realities, and services available to survivors. This newspaper was direct mailed to incoming students as was made available during each of the 40 orientation sessions in the summer of 2009.

During orientation, new students and their parents attend a resource fair with incentive to visit each table. The Rape Crisis Center staffs one of these tables and provides information about their services as well education about the high rates of victimization on college campuses, which are mostly perpetrated by someone who knows the victim. Students and parents then attend a presentation session wherein the University of Wisconsin Police Department delivered information about sexual assault that was co-developed with University Health Services violence prevention specialist and the Dane County Rape Crisis Center. Topics included statistical information, definitions of sexual assault and consent, the role of alcohol, and available resources on campus.

After orientation, first year students were issued an invitation to complete an online course about sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking. This interactive program focused on common misconceptions about sexual assault, what students can do to protect themselves from victimization or perpetration, how to intervene in harmful situations, and how to support a friend who has been assaulted. Screens specifically customized to UW–Madison services were a part of this program, ensuring that students learned about where they could go on campus for more information. For more information about the online program, contact violenceprevention@uhs.wisc.edu or visit www.uhs.wisc.edu/assault. The online program is funded in part by a grant from the US Department of Justice, Office of Violence Against Women.

The annual security report, which contains data about crimes, policies, sexual assault, and campus safety efforts, is e-mailed by October 1 each year to all students, staff, faculty by the Dean of Students Office. This report is readily available on the campus safety website: www.safeu.wisc.edu and upon request.

Supplemental violence prevention programs, self defense classes, and efforts designed to address the root causes of violence against women are available during the school year through a variety of student organizations, such as Sex Out Loud and PAVE: Promoting Awareness, Victim Empowerment.

Finally, all new students are given a calendar planner at orientation that contains health and safety information and tips. One entire section of the planner describes the required safety information available and provides a link to the complete information on line.

2. Provide an explanation how the chosen methods ensure that all new and continuing students annually receive the required information. Wis.Stat. §36.11(22)(2).

The attendance rate at orientation is 99.9+%, and the health and safety planner is distributed during check-in process, ensuring that all students are given a copy. The information is also referenced verbally during the program. In addition, the annual security report is distributed each year via e-mail per the federal Clery Act and made available on an ongoing basis through the campus safety website. Information provided during orientation, including the online program, will continue to be offered as resources are available.

3. Provide a summary of the format, focus, goals, and size of the orientation programming which includes the required oral and written information to new students, as described in Wis. Stat. §36.11(22)(1)(a-d).

All new freshmen and transfer students attend an orientation session prior to attending fall and spring semester courses. Approximately 150–180 students (and their parents) attend each of these 48 sessions. The primary focus of these programs is academic advising and course enrollment, however, other introductory information is shared in print, during presentations and through a campus resource fair. Safety information is specifically shared in the printed materials and discussed in large-group presentations as well as small-group discussions.

4. Describe two or three best examples of institutional initiatives, programs or services which assist student victims of sexual violence. The description should include the impact, benefit, or significant innovation of these highlighted programs.

In July 2009, the EVOC grant project offered a specialized training on sexual assault, dating/domestic violence and stalking to a target audience of 90 sworn UW Police Officers and 10 Judicial Affairs Professionals. The training gave an enhanced understanding of the issues listed above including education on appropriate referrals, new strangulation laws, physical effects of trauma and victim empathy and appropriate response. Four sessions were offered and 48 UW Police and 10 Judicial Affairs Professionals (7 from the Dean of Student's Office and 3 from University Housing) were in attendance.

Presenters included representatives from the Madison area community including the Rape Crisis Center, Domestic Abuse Intervention Services, the District Attorney's Office, and Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) program of Meriter Hospital. The feedback on the evaluations was very positive and several UWPD officers commented that this training should be annual and last for more than 3 hours. In addition the evaluations indicated the following:

- 89% learned more about the services provide by the Rape Crisis Center, Domestic Abuse Intervention Services, AND, and/or the Victim/Witness Unit at the DA's office.
- 65% learned new information about interviewing skills and writing crime reports.
- 85% felt that they were more knowledgeable about how to make referrals to local programs that serve victims.
- 84% learned more about how to apply knowledge about victim trauma in their day-to-day work as a law enforcement officer.
- 98% can better identify the physical effects and key elements of strangulation and suffocation.

In November of 2009, the Dean of Student's in collaboration with University Legal, the EVOC grant project, and Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) Program offered a two hour training to the University Misconduct Hearing Panel members. This training focused specifically on sensitive cases involving sexual assault, dating/domestic violence and stalking and included definitions, understanding WI laws and statutes and how the criminal process differs from the university process, victim empathy and response, reasons why victims may or may not choose to report, vicarious (secondary) trauma, information on the new burden of proof standards for sensitive crime cases in the University disciplinary process, questioning victims, and how to manage attorney's during the formal hearing process.

In addition, the Student Assistance & Judicial Affairs staff offered two campus wide training sessions on Sexual Assault, Dating Domestic Violence, and Stalking for faculty, staff and students. The training included discussing the prevalence of sensitive crimes and appropriate strategies for working with victims. The state and federal reporting requirements, the student judicial process and victim support and referral system were reviewed with the training participants.

5. Describe two or three best examples of ways the institution offers education or training in sexual assault prevention and protective behaviors, and the impact, benefit or significant innovation of these highlighted programs.

In 2009, UW–Madison started offering a 72 minute online prevention program for first year students that addresses gender, communication, alcohol, consent, sexual assault and dating. In the first year, 40% of first year students participated in this program, and of those who completed the pre and post tests, knowledge increased an average 30% for both men and women. The benefit of programs such as this one, is that students are better able to utilize skills to prevent and intervene in sexual assault. The online program is inclusive and has a LGBT specific section.

- In the words of two participants,
- "... it gave a lot of good ways to get yourself out of a sexual assault situation and also described really well what you could do that is viewed as sexual assault that I didn't know before." (male, Oct 2009)
  - "This was an extremely informational program and it was very helpful. I am more conscious of ways to protect myself - I particularly like the verbal judo section because I never know what to say when I don't want to go further with a guy." (female, September 2009)

6. The institutionally defined boundaries of the geographic location "off-campus". [The criteria for specifying "off-campus" should be that it identifies a region surrounding the campus, but not controlled by the institution, where substantial numbers of students typically live or congregate. Our expectation is that this may well be a dynamic category and that institutions may choose to annually re-evaluate the defined boundaries.]

The UW–Madison campus defines "off campus" as "within one mile of campus."

Institutional Obligation to Notify Faculty and Staff of their Reporting Obligations

Our Sexual Harassment Information & Resources web site (www.oed.wisc.edu/sexualharassment/) and companion brochure, Sexual Harassment: Defining and Addressing a Community Concern, explain the University of Wisconsin–Madison’s policies on sexual harassment and consensual romantic or sexual relationships. They provide information and guidance on what to do if an individual is harassed, accused of harassment, or contacted by someone who believes he or she has been harassed. In addition, they highlight the responsibilities of individuals in positions of authority (principal investigators, supervisors, managers, department chairs, directors, and deans). Both web and print materials include additional information about campus safety, sexual assault reporting requirements, and resources for preventing and responding to sexual assault.

New in 2009, University Health Services and EVOG (End Violence on Campus) campus and community partner offices (www.uhs.wisc.edu/display\_story.jsp?id=159&cat\_id=105) have published a resource guide: “Information for Faculty, Staff, and TAs: Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, and Stalking” (www.uhs.wisc.edu/docs/Faculty%20TA%20resource%20guide%20FINAL%20in%20FGB.pdf).

An annual memo regarding mandatory sexual assault reporting and the university’s Sexual Harassment Information & Resources initiative, from Provost Paul M. DeLuca, Jr., was sent to all employees early on 10 February 2010 (by e-mail, with hard copy to employees without e-mail addresses).

In addition, brochures are provided to individuals attending sexual harassment informational sessions, to participants in the Office of Human Resource Development’s Managers & Supervisors (MSD) Series; to employees at New Employee Orientation sessions offered each month; to graduate students attending Graduate Assistant Equity Workshops, offered for TAs and PAs each year since 1990; and to students attending Student Orientation, Advising & Registration (SOAR).

In 2008–2009, 592 employees participated in 19 sexual harassment informational sessions held across campus. An additional 28 School of Medicine & Public Health employees attended sexual harassment informational sessions offered at UW Hospital & Clinics during this period. In Fall 2009, 126 employees attended nine sessions. At these interactive sessions, facilitators provided information about the law, university policies and campus resources; shared advice about responding compassionately and effectively to sexual harassment concerns; and addressed sexual assault reporting requirements and resources. Attendance has been mandatory for limited appointees since November 2005. Of the current total of 542 employees with limited appointments, 508 (94%) have now attended or had previously attended sessions.

In 2008–2009, 409 TAs and PAs attended 10 Graduate Assistants Equity Workshops.

Alcohol & Other Drugs: Services and Programs

Campus Resources for Students

Our campus provides a variety of services to students. In order that we may intervene earlier and more effectively with students who are alcohol/other drug troubled, we provide training for counselors, House Fellows in university residence halls, resident assistants in the private residence halls, fraternity and sorority members, and any interested faculty and staff to help them identify and refer persons who may be having problems associated with alcohol or other drugs through their own or someone else's use. If you are concerned about your own use of alcohol or other drugs, confidential information, assessment, referral, and short-term counseling services are available at UHS Counseling and Consultation Services (608/265-5600). There are no intensive treatment services available on campus. Insurance affects your ability to use off-campus alcohol and other drug service providers, and we urge all students to have adequate insurance coverage.

Information Resources

A variety of informational resources are available to students. These include a free, confidential, online assessment tool called e-CHUG (which gets 3,000 hits annually) to assess personal drinking, and posters and brochures available to students throughout campus.

An assessment is a series of one-on-one sessions with a counselor, who will evaluate the nature of any problems a student is having with drugs or alcohol. The assessment gets the student involved through discussion and consideration of biological, psychological, and social factors affecting alcohol and other drug use and abuse. The counselor can then make recommendations for further treatment, if necessary and appropriate.

For a basic self-evaluation, students can complete a free, confidential online screening called e-CHUG. It provides students with personal information regarding their own consumption and risk factors. The feedback includes information which has been shown to be particularly useful to college drinkers and includes: quantity and frequency of drinking; caloric intake; norm comparisons; amount and percent of income spent on alcohol; tolerance level; negative consequences of alcohol use; genetic risk score; explanation, advice, local referral information; amount consumed and peak blood alcohol level. This online screening is not a substitute for an official assessment with a trained professional counselor from the UHS staff. <https://interwork.sdsu.edu/echug2/?id=UW-Madison&hfs>

Alcohol Smart is the education option designed by Tellurian, Inc., for individuals who have been required by the court to complete an alcohol education class. The class consists of two sessions that are three and a half hours each, held on two consecutive Friday afternoons. The class is offered each month at The Crossing, 1127 University Avenue. Because this program is offered through Tellurian, Inc., there is a fee for participation.

UHS offers individual coaching and group support for students who would like help assessing their current tobacco use. Staff will assist students in developing strategies for quitting and the support they need to stick with their decision.

Campus Resources for Employees

Employees who have problems with alcohol or controlled substances are encouraged to contact the Employee Assistance Office Director Steven Pearson (608/263-2987). URL: <http://eao.wisc.edu/index.htm>. Voluntary contact with EAO may remain confidential.

Community Information and Treatment Resources

There are a variety of alcohol and other drug information, prevention, intervention, and treatment programs and services in the Madison community.

University Standards of Conduct & University Sanctions Concerning Illicit Drugs & Alcohol

We have a variety of on-campus prevention, education, screening and intervention programs as well as university sanctions designed to reduce alcohol and other drug abuse. We can also help put people in touch with the variety of community resources available to assist persons who are experiencing alcohol and other drug related problems. We know, however, that the most effective catalyst for positive change is the willingness of people who know and care for each other to talk to one another about these issues — to share values and expectations, to ask questions, to convey concern, to offer information and support. We ask you to work on this important communication with us; we will help in any way we can, and invite you to call us for assistance.

Standards of Conduct

The University of Wisconsin System and University of Wisconsin–Madison prohibit the unlawful possession, use, distribution, manufacture, or dispensing of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees on university property or as part of university activities. The use or possession of alcoholic beverages is prohibited on university premises, except in faculty and staff housing and as expressly permitted by the chief administrative officer or under institutional regulations, in accordance with s. UWS 18.06(13)(a), Wis. Adm. Code. Without exception, alcohol consumption is governed by Wisconsin statutory age restrictions under s. UWS 18.06(13)(b), Wis. Adm. Code. The unlawful use, possession, distribution, manufacture, or dispensing of illicit drugs (“controlled substances” as defined in ch. 961, Wis. Stats.) is prohibited in accordance with s. UWS 18.10(1), Wis. Adm. Code.

Disciplinary Sanctions

Violation of these provisions by a student may lead to the imposition of a disciplinary sanction, up to and including suspension or expulsion, under s. UWS 17.03(1)(b), Wis. Adm. Code. Students are often requested to participate in an alcohol and other drug (AOD) assessment provided by University Health Services (UHS), the Values and Influences Toward Alcohol class taught by UHS Counseling and Consultation staff, the e-CHUG online self-assessment tool and reflection papers that require the student to read excerpts from books such as Dying to Drink by Henry Wechsler and Beer and Circus by Murray Sperber as a part of their educational sanctions.

University employees are also subject to disciplinary sanctions for violation of these provisions occurring on university property or the worksite or during work time, up to and including termination from employment. Disciplinary sanctions are initiated and imposed in accordance with applicable procedural requirements and work rules, as set forth in Wisconsin statutes, administrative rules, faculty and academic staff policies, and collective bargaining agreements. Referral for prosecution under criminal law is also possible. Further, violations of ss. UWS 18.06(13) and 18.10(1), Wis. Adm. Code may result in additional penalties as allowed under ch. UWS 18, Wis. Adm. Code.

Employees who are convicted of any criminal drug statute violation occurring in the workplace must notify the dean, director or department chair within 5 days of the conviction, if the employees are employed by the university at the time of the conviction.

State of Wisconsin and Federal Laws

State of Wisconsin and Federal Legal Sanctions

The Uniform Controlled Substances Act, Chapter 961 of the Wisconsin Statutes, regulates controlled substances and outlines specific penalties for the violation of the regulations. A first-time conviction for possession of a controlled substance can result in a sentence of up to one year in prison and a fine of up to $5,000. Sec. 961.41(3g), Stats. A person convicted of manufacturing a controlled substance, delivering a controlled substance, or possessing a controlled substance with an intent to manufacture or deliver, can be imprisoned for up to 30 years and fined up to $1,000,000. Secs. 961.41(1) and (1m), Stats. Penalties vary according to the type of drug involved, the amount of drug confiscated, the number of previous convictions, and the presence of any aggravating factors. The distribution of a controlled substance to a minor can lead to the doubling of an authorized sentence term. Sec. 961.46, Stats. Wisconsin has formidable legal sanctions that restrict the use of alcohol in various situations. It is illegal to procure for, sell, dispense or give away alcohol to anyone who has not reached the legal drinking age of 21 years. Sec. 125.07(1)(a)(1), Stats. Every adult has a legal obligation to prevent the illegal consumption of alcohol on premises owned by the adult or under the adult's control. Sec. 125.07(1)(a)(3), Stats. A first-time violator of either of the above subsections can be fined up to $500. It is against the law for an underage person to procure or attempt to procure an alcoholic beverage, to falsely represent his or her age for the purpose of obtaining alcohol, to enter premises licensed to sell alcohol, or to consume or possess alcohol on licensed premises. Sec. 125.07(4)(a), Stats. A first-time underage violator of Section 125.07(4)(bs), Stats., can be fined up to $500, ordered to participate in a supervised work program, and have their driver's license suspended.

Federal Laws

Federal Legal Sanctions

Pursuant to federal law, the United States Sentencing Guidelines establish mandatory minimum penalties for categories of drug offenses and provide for penalty enhancements in specific cases. Under these federal guidelines, courts can sentence a person for up to 6 years for unlawful possession of a controlled substance, including the distribution of a small amount (less than 250 grams) of marijuana; a sentence of life imprisonment can result from a conviction of possession of a controlled substance that results in death or bodily injury; and, possession of more than 5 grams of cocaine can trigger an intent to distribute penalty of 10–16 years in prison.

Federal Penalties and Sanctions for Illegal Possession of Controlled Substances

1st conviction: Up to 1 year imprisonment and fined at least $1,000 but not more than $100,000, or both. After 1 prior drug conviction: At least 15 days in prison, not to exceed 2 years and fined at least $2,500 but not more than $250,000, or both.

After 2 or more prior drug convictions: At least 90 days in prison, not to exceed 3 years and fined at least $5,000 but not more than $250,000, or both.

21 U.S.C. 853(a)(2) and 881(a)(7) Forfeiture of personal and real property used to possess or to facilitate possession of a controlled substance if that offense is punishable by more than 1 year imprisonment. (See special sentencing provisions re: crack, above.)

21 U.S.C. 881(a)(4) Forfeiture of vehicles, boats, aircraft or any other conveyance used to transport or conceal a controlled substance.

21 U.S.C. 844a Civil fine of up to $10,000.

21 U.S.C. 862 Denial of Federal benefits, such as student loans, grants, contracts, and professional and commercial licenses, up to 1 year for first offense, up to 5 years for second and subsequent offenses.

18 U.S.C. 922(g) Ineligible to purchase, receive or transport a firearm. Miscellaneous Revocation of certain Federal licenses and benefits, e.g. pilot licenses, public housing tenancy, etc., are vested within the authorities of individual Federal agencies.

Note: These are only Federal penalties and sanctions. Additional State penalties and sanctions may apply.

Health Effects of Alcohol & Other Drugs: Summary

The following is a partial list of drugs and the consequences of their use. The abuse of alcohol and the use of other drugs is detrimental to the health of the user. Further, the use of drugs and alcohol is not conducive to an academic atmosphere. Drugs impede the learning process and can cause disruption for other students and disturb their academic interests. The use of alcohol or drugs in the workplace may also impede the employee's ability to perform in a safe and effective manner, and may result in injuries to others. Early diagnosis and treatment of drug and alcohol abuse is in the best interests of the student, employee and the university. For additional information concerning the health risks associated with substances covered by the Controlled Substances Act, refer to the chart on pages 24–25 of the U.S. Department of Justice publication, Drugs of Abuse, 1996 edition.

- ▶ Alcohol: Alcohol is the most frequently abused drug on campus and in society. Alcohol is chemically classified as a mind-altering drug because it contains ethanol and has the chemical power to depress the action of the central nervous system. This depression affects motor coordination, speech and vision. In great amounts, it can affect respiration and heart rate control. Death can result when the level of blood alcohol exceeds 0.40%. Prolonged abuse of alcohol can lead to alcoholism, malnutrition and cirrhosis.
- ▶ Anabolic Steroids: Concerns over a growing illicit market and prevalence of abuse, combined with the possibility of long-term effects of steroid use, led Congress to place anabolic steroids into Schedule III of the Controlled Substances Act (CSA). Although the adverse effects of large doses of multiple anabolic steroids are not well established, there is increasing evidence of serious health problems associated with the abuse of these agents, including cardiovascular damage, liver damage and damage to reproductive organs. Physical side effects include elevated blood pressure and cholesterol levels, severe acne, premature balding, reduced sexual function and testicular atrophy. The CSA defines anabolic steroids as any drug or hormonal substance chemically and pharmacologically related to testosterone (other than estrogens, progestins, and corticosteroids), that promotes muscle growth. Those commonly encountered on the illicit market include: boldenone (Equipoise), ethylestrenol (Maxibolin), fluoxymesterone (Halotestin), methandriol, methandrostenolone (Dianabol), methyltestosterone, nandrolone (Durabolin, Deca-Durabolin), oxandrolone (Anavar), oxymetholone (Anadrol), stanozolol (Winstrol), testosterone and trenbolone (Finajet).

- ▶ Cannabis: Three drugs that come from cannabis—marijuana, hashish, and hashish oil—are currently distributed on the U.S. illicit market. These drugs are deleterious to the health and impair the short-term memory and comprehension of the user. When used, they alter the sense of time and reduce the ability of the user to perform tasks requiring concentration and coordination. They also increase the heart rate and appetite. Motivation and cognition can be altered, making acquisition and retention of new information difficult. Long-term users may develop psychological dependence that can produce paranoia and psychosis. Because cannabis products are usually inhaled as unfiltered smoke, they are damaging to the lungs and pulmonary system and have more cancer-causing agents than tobacco.
- ▶ Depressants: Depressants produce central nervous system depression. Depressants (i.e., barbiturates, benzodiazepines, glutethimide, methqualone, and meprobamate) can cause physical and psychological dependence that can lead to respiratory depression, coma and death, especially when used in concert with alcohol. Withdrawal can lead to restlessness, insomnia, convulsions and even death. Chloral hydrate, a hypnotic depressant, and alcohol constitute the infamous “date-rape drug” or “Mickey Finn.”
- ▶ Hallucinogens: LSD, PCP, mescaline and peyote are classified as hallucinogens. Hallucinogens interrupt the brain messages that control the intellect and keep instincts in check. Large doses can produce convulsions and coma, heart and lung failure. Chronic users complain of persistent memory problems and speech difficulties for up to a year after their use. Because the drug stops the brain's pain sensors, drug experiences may result in severe self-inflicted injuries. Persistent memory problems and speech difficulties may linger.

- ▶ Narcotics: The term narcotic derives from the Greek word for stupor. Narcotic use is associated with a variety of unwanted effects, including drowsiness, inability to concentrate, apathy, lessened physical activity, constriction of the pupils, dilation of the subcutaneous blood vessels causing flushing of the face and neck, constipation, nausea and vomiting and, most significantly, respiratory depression. With repeated use of narcotics, tolerance and dependence develop. Users of narcotics, such as heroin, codeine, morphine, and opium, are susceptible to overdose that can lead to convulsions, coma and death.
- ▶ Stimulants: Cocaine is the most potent stimulant of natural origin. “Crack” is the chunk form of cocaine that is a ready-to-use freebase. These drugs stimulate the central nervous system and are extremely addictive. They can cause psychological and physical dependency. Stimulants can lead to dilated pupils, increased pulse rate, elevated blood pressure, insomnia, loss of appetite, paranoia, and seizures. They can also cause death by disrupting the brain's control of the heart and respiration. The use of amphetamines and other stimulants can have the same effect as cocaine and cause increased heart rates and blood pressure that can result in a stroke or heart failure. Side effects include dizziness, sleeplessness, and anxiety. They can also lead to hallucinations, paranoia, psychosis, and even a physical collapse. Nicotine is a highly addictive stimulant, whether ingested by smoking or chewing. This drug hits the brain in six seconds and damages the lungs, decreases heart strength, and is associated with many types of cancers when ingested by smoking. The withdrawal symptoms include anxiety, progressive restlessness, irritability, and sleep disturbances.

Myths About Alcohol

- ▶ Everyone drinks. Actually, 30% of UW–Madison students don't drink at all or classify themselves as light drinkers.

- ▶ The use of alcohol is a personal choice that only affects the user. You are part of a 40,000+ student community and your substance use choices can affect the people you are with and the things you are doing.
- ▶ I see a lot of people using alcohol to socialize and I want to fit in and make friends. Choose to see and be with those people who care about themselves and their friends. There are many ways to make friends and many places to fit into the campus - join a student organization (there are 700+ to choose from!), volunteer, hang out at one of the Unions, join an intramural sports team.

- ▶ Make Moderation Part of Your Lifestyle. A Harvard University study indicated that 65% of UW–Madison undergraduates are high-risk drinkers and that 54% drink to get drunk. Moderation can lessen the negative consequences such as hurting you or others, vandalism, academic problems and failure. Begin by deciding if you're going to drink alcohol or not! If you choose to drink, remember it's not a race. Alternate with nonalcoholic drinks and be sure to eat. Think how much better you'll feel in the morning after a moderate night, not to mention the positive effect moderation will have on your class attendance, grades, and friendships!
