11.1.1 ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE AND FUNCTIONS
11.1.2 ORGANIZATIONAL CHART

POLICY:
The UW-Madison Police Department organizational structure shall be designed to provide the most effective and efficient delivery of service possible.

DEFINITIONS:
“Function” is the expected activity of a person or organizational component.

“Organizational component” is any organizational entity (i.e., unit, subdivision) that is staffed on a full-time basis to provide a specific function.

“Subdivision” refers to a primary operational area of the Department. A subdivision has a Department-wide function either for general police service or for specialized activity.

“Unit” refers to a functional component within a subdivision.
